office of the fleet commander

Grand Admiral Ronin has gathered articles and submissions regarding the development of the Emperor's Hammer. These include Fleet events, overall EH Plotlines, personal anecdotes, etc. The Fleet Commander wishes to emphasize that all development proposals for the Emperor's Hammer MUST be approved by the Fleet Commander prior to release to the rest of the Fleet.

HA Kawolski Awarded the Imperial Cross: 02.08.00

For his tireless efforts and more than his share of sleepless nights maintaining www.tiecorps.org for the enjoyment of the Emperor's Hammer Membership, the Fleet Commander (GA Ronin) has decided to award HA Kawolski the Imperial Cross (IC) Medal.

Congrats on a job well done...!

Colonel Havoc Appointed as Combat Operations Officer: 02.10.00

Upon approval from the Executive Officer (SA Compton), the Tactical Officer (HA Kawolski) and the Flight Officer (FA Kessler), Colonel Havoc has been appointed as the new EH Combat Operations Officer.

COMM Takes Extended leave of Absence/AD Kumba Named COMM

<Salute>

Over the course of the past few weeks, I have become rather busy IRL with school and other commitments. Classes, my graduation project, and a disaster relief trip I'm going on over spring break, my youth group, and my friends have taken up almost all of my available free time as of late.

Between meetings and other activities, I don't have much time on my hands to tend to EH matters. In addition to all of this, I also am dealing with all of my college freshman testing stuff. I do not at this time wish to resign my post as COMM Officer, but I would however like to request an extended leave of absence from my duties. The length of my leave I am unable to determine at this time, but I would hope it to be over by April or May at the latest.

In my absence, Kumba will fill in for me (if that's ok with you Kumba).

Respectfully,
Former COMM/FA Zoomba

Applications to be Received for New Internet Officer: 02.07.00

With the recent resignation of FA Thedek, the Fleet Commander (GA Ronin) is looking for a new Internet Officer.

The Position Description follows:

The Internet Officer is directly responsible for maintaining the Main EH Club Links and assists with maintenance of the EH WWW Domain. The Main EH WWW Links Site serves as a central link for ALL EH related links/pages in the Fleet (i.e. Subgroups, Battlegroups, Ships, Wings and Squadrons). The Internet Officer also aids the Fleet by looking for new areas of exposure and opportunities for the Emperor's Hammer on the WWW. The Internet Officer also selects the Emperor's Hammer Member Site of the Week.

The Fleet Commander (GA Ronin) also requests potential Applicants meet the following criteria:

- Be a LONG-standing Member and Officer in the club (>1 year).
- Not have had ANY cases brought before the High Court of Inquisitors.
- Has demonstrated increased command responsibility within the club, reaching at least a Rank of Rear Admiral.
- Portrays a responsible and mature manner both online and in private correspondence.
- Be a proven EXPERT in HTML, WWW sites, message boards, etc.
- Be able to host a STABLE series of WWW sites for use by the Emperor's Hammer Membership (i.e. Main Links Page, WWW Message Boards, etc.).
- Interested Applicants should email their 'resumes' to the Fleet Commander (GA Ronin) and Executive Officer (SA Compton).

Prex of the Corporate Division Retires/Nist Appointed as Prex

Sirs,

I would like to resign my commission as President of the Corporate Division. When I took over the post during the summer, I thought I would have enough time to do the projects I wanted to. But, as it turns out, when school came back around, I just ran out of time. I would like to assist the Corporate Division in the future, and will always be open for assistance.

I wish the next PREX the best of luck, and if he/she wants, I will send him all the info and suggestions he needs, as I am appointing myself on the Corporate Advisory Board.

FO, please put me in the Reserve Corps. FA Zoraan, I would like to help out in the Science Office if you need it. It has been a pleasure.

New Chief Gamemaster of the Fringe Appointed: 02.07.00

Dansin, here's a little declaration from the GA you probably haven't seen:

> DarkAlex, you are hereby notified that your activity level has fallen below what is required to be a SGCOM in the Emperor's Hammer.

> By copy of this email, the XO is herein authorized to begin finding a replacement CGM for the Fringe...

Congratulations, you've got the job. I expect to see most of your proposals put into action. However your first duty is to get a Roster in (I've mailed Alex asking for one) and to get a new site up ASAP. Good luck, and let me know where I can help.

excitement that is inherent in the Star Wars legacy. Therefore, we want to give fans a forum to express their opinions and help us make the products be as good as they can be," said Bill Slavicsek, director of Roleplaying Game Development and lead designer for the new Star Wars roleplaying game."

Fleet Commander's Note:

Bill Slavicsek wrote may of the previous Star Wars RPG rules and sourcebooks...Looks like Wizards of the Coast took in the appropriate talent to make this work...!

New IWCOM Appointed: 02.01.00

fter much deliberation, I've decided to give AD Darkov his shot at IWCOM. Out of the many applicants, he had the best ideas on where to take the IW, and how to get it there. Congrats, Darkov. I expect many good things to come of this. Don't let me down.

New EH Morale Officer (MOR) Appointed: 01.28.00

With the recent resignation of GN Wolly as the EH Morale Officer, the Fleet Commander (GA Ronin) and Executive Officer (SA Compton) have accepted the outgoing MOR's recommendations as follows:

<SALUTE>

GA Ronin, SA Compton,

Being the EH Morale Officer for three months, I realized I'm not able to run this show besides all my other duties (WC, FOA, DB membership and not to forget this thing called Squadron League... :). I was the driving force behind the movie project "The Adventures of Jahn Compton (and a whole bunch of other guys flying TIE Fighters)" a.k.a. "Emperor's Hammer: The Movie" but I feel it is my fault not to finish it so far. Shame on me... :\

I guess I'm doing a much better job as a WC or as the FOA so it's a decision for the betterment of the fleet. Don't worry, I won't resign without recommendations:

Recommendation for MOR:

CMDR/CPT Hunter/Asp 1-1/Wing XIV/ISD Intrepid
(sharga@mindspring.com)

Recommendation for MORA:

CMDR/MAJ Sarriss/Alpha 1-1/Wing I/SSSD Sovereign
(sarriss@bigfoot.com)

Both are fine officers and capable to do this job much better than me. I'll remain as the movie page webmaster and will support CPT Hunter and MAJ Sarriss with the movie project.

Keep this fleet moving!... :)

Good little Imperials...

by SA Compton

I get asked a LOT of questions about the EH. This is a good thing, because it's my job to be able to provide answers. But the question that I've been asked most lately is this:

"Why the heck did you become commander of Pi Squadron again?"

Well, it's like this. I started out in Pi Squadron; Pi 2-3 to be exact. Recently, the ISD Colossus has been met with a great deal of trouble. To help solve its problems it was decided that a few of the squadrons in Wing VIII were to be closed down for a bit. One of the squads that was going to be closed was Pi. Now I joined the EH back when being a TIE pilot was pretty much all you could do in the Fleet. And that's what I wanted to do. All I wanted to do in the EH was fly a TIE, and blow the crap out of Rebels. Eventually I was made commander of Pi, and then I became the first CA:TAC. Even though I've ended up spending most of my career in the EH behind a desk, I've always had a special place in my heart for Pi Squadron. Some of the Fleet's best pilots have come from Pi. And to be honest with you, I just couldn't bear to see Pi Squadron go away, even for a little bit. So I did the only thing I could do.

I volunteered to command it.

Now the second most-asked question I hear is "isn't that a conflict of interest since you're supposed to oversee the whole Fleet?" Not really. While I'm on the Colossus, WC/MAJ Theo and COM/RA Ari are in charge. If they give me orders, I follow them. It's that simple. It's their ship, and while I'm on it I follow their rules. And I still am able to do my duties as XO of the Fleet. Heck, I'm probably spending more time on XO now than I was before taking command of Pi, just to prove that I can do both jobs no problem. Oh, and if you were wondering, the Fleet Commander has given me special permission to command Pi, since this is only a temporary assignment. My goal is to make Pi a strong, self-sufficient squadron, and then turn it over to someone who can keep it that way.

So far, I think this is working. Pi has gone from about 44th in the Sovereign's Squadron League competition after the first mission to about 20th after the second. The pilots of Pi have earned quite a few medals in the last few weeks, and we've been challenged to competitions by a couple other squads. Morale is high, and so are our mission scores. :-P So yeah, I think this is working. I hope you all think it is, too.

The Academy

The last shuttle departed for the waiting Frigate as Rear Admiral Torres watched the last of the new arrivals head off for their new quarters. One of the few veterans left in the Infiltrator Wing, Torres had been commander of Vulture Squadron, then Wing Command of Wing I. After a personal crisis had resulted his brief departure, Torres had returned and was made Wing Commander of Wing II. Setting the foundation for the rebuilding the of nearly-destroyed Wing, he had been the one to show faith in Flight Lieutenants Wedge and Andronicus by appointing them Commanders of Intruder and Black Squadrons respectively. The departure of Rear Admiral Nighthawk left the vital position of Training Officer open and after convincing Fleet Admiral Maestro that he was the best person for the position, Torres was promoted to Commodore and assigned the task of getting the Academy moving again.

That was a few months ago. A few months in which the Infiltrator Wing had seen an increase in the number of pilots assigned to the squadrons. Torres was now looking at the possibility of the Infiltrator Wing re-activating one of the many moth-balled warships, hopefully a MC-80. There were the usual grumblings among the pilots, but morale was strong among the cadets and Torres was looking forward to the parties that always accompanied the graduation of a cadet from the Academy. But now he had a new bunch to take care and to turn into the best. Turning around, he headed into the main briefing room where the cadets had already assembled. This lot was better than the last, on time and waiting for his arrival. Standing behind the podium, he began his welcome speech.

"Welcome to the Platform Destrier, the Infiltrator Wing's Training Academy, cadets. I am Rear Admiral Kell 'Torres' Rancitor, the Infiltrator Wing's Training Officer and Commander of the Destrier. To you and everyone in the Infiltrator Wing, I am simply known as Torres. By now you should know where my office is and how to contact me if need be. Please do so, it could mean the difference between graduating and staying longer than you should. You have all joined one of the elite wings in the known galaxy. As part of the Emperor's Hammer, our goal is to destroy the Rebellion in a way no one else can, from within. For those who have flown with the Rebellion before, it will be hard, but if we are to restore Law and Order to the Galaxy, great sacrifices will have to be made. In the days ahead, great deeds will be achieved and heroes will be born. The question is, will you be the ones achieving those deeds and will you be that hero? Here, I will help you gain the skills needed to go after that. As far as I am concerned, you know nothing. All your previous experience means absolutely zero. Forget everything you've learned up till now, because it is here you will be taught by the best. Your instructors are some of the finest pilots ever and it would be best if you paid them the proper respect they have earned. All of the instructors have passed through the fire of battle and survived. They have overcome many types of challenges and succeeded where others have not. All you have been assigned to a particular company which flies certain types of starfighter. Now listen carefully.

"Alpha Company, you will fly the four main classes of Rebel Starfighters, the X-Wing, Y-Wing, B-Wing, and A-Wing. You will learn these fighters inside and out, to such detail that you could conduct repairs yourself. In mock combat every day, you will discover the advantages and disadvantages of each fighter. The top 5% will be taught in how to fly the Infiltrator Wing's own versions, the Ares X-Wing, the Intruder A-Wing, the Vulture B-Wing, and the Shadow Y-Wing. Bravo Company, you will fly the five main classes of Imperial Starfighters, the TIE Fighter, TIE Interceptor, TIE Bomber, TIE Advanced, and Assault Gunboat. You will learn these fighters inside and out, to such detail that you could conduct repairs yourself. In mock combat every day, you will discover the advantages and disadvantages of each fighter. The top 5% will be taught in how to fly the more advanced Imperial Fighters, the TIE Defender and Missile Boat. Charlie Company, you will fly both the main classes of Rebel and Imperial Starfighters. You will learn these fighters inside and out, to such detail that you could conduct repairs yourself. In mock combat every day, you will discover the advantages and disadvantages of each fighter. The top 5% will be taught in how to fly the Infiltrator Wing's own versions and the advanced Imperial Fighters.

Delta Company, you will fly all classes of starfighters, Rebel, Imperial, and Neutral. You will learn these fighters inside and out, to such detail that you could conduct repairs yourself. In mock combat every day, you will discover the advantages and disadvantages of each fighter. The top 5% will be allowed to choose their own particular type of fighter and will receive special training in that particular class.

Each day will see a mock combat, followed by a debriefing which will see the positives and negatives of each cadet's moves pointed out. Do not take this as a failure, but take it as an opportunity to learn from others' decisions. Also you will be in classes where you will learn not only space tactics, but also ground tactics, history, the sciences, and other special fields of study. In between classes, you are expected to study hard and long in the library or your quarters. Each of you will also be taught in starship operations on one of the corvettes assigned to the Destrier.

"Alpha and Bravo Companies will engage each in mock combat while Charlie and Delta will engage each other. Every fortnight, there will be a melee where the winner will receive a week's leave to Aurora Prime. Get to know everyone here because sooner or later, your life will be in their hands. Show no mercy in the mock combats, but remember, out there in the war against the Rebellion, we are all on the same side. This means that you leave all disagreements and hatreds here in the Academy. The passing grade for the final exam is 85%. The exam can be taken at any time, it only requires you to access it, fill in the answers, and send it to me. If you have passed all the requirements, you will be informed of your new assignment and we will hold a small party to celebrate your graduation. Remember now is the time for great deeds to be made and heroes to be born. Will you be among those hailed by the Galaxy as one of the greatest starfighter pilots?

"Cadets, attend your instructor. Flying instruction lessons will begin at once. Good luck and dismissed."

As one, the assembled cadets stood up, saluted and departed for their mission briefing. Torres gave a small salute as the last cadet departed and then headed for his office where the latest exams were no doubt awaiting his marking.

Forever Fighting - 21/1/00

We hope for the best, we wish we pray,
That we will see peace, some time some day.
An end to war, the pain the death
No longer to see, our foes last breath

But Still we fight, we kill we mame,
We destroy the scum, its all the same.
As long as we live, and they all die,
We will board our ships, built to fly.

Out into the dark, the empty exspace,
With gun ports open we do advance.
They flee like rats, from a sinking boat,
Running scared, struggeling to float.

Over their shoulder, they look, they stare,
To hope we've gone, lost intrested, don't care.
Yet still we go, follow and track,
Their footprints in space, right on their back.

So get ready to stand fast, for the fight ahead,
For we cannot rest, until they are all dead!

Name: Feran Daemas
Rank: Sub Lieutenant
Assignment: Kaph Squadron, Wing IV SSSD Sovereign
ScanDoc Transmission Code (E-mail): howlrunner22@hotmail.com
Sex (M/F) : M
Date of Birth: 32nd of Ragnor, 233167 A.C.J. (Bormean Standard)
Place of Birth: Bormea, Baldur Sector, The Inner Rim
Status: Single
Family: Separated (unknown, possibly dead)
Status: Middle-Class Level 4 (Imperial Urban Development Department Standard)
Significant Events of Childhood and Adolescence
Feran Daemas was born into the galaxy the son of a fairly successful droid merchant. He attended some of the finest schools on the planet but due to his lack of interest and his flighty attitudes, he did not take to his studies well. Instead, he often flew harrowing races with his friends in the Deppa Trench and Hurik's Sound in T-16s and other repulsorlifts. All this changed when COMPNOR official, Major Leirik Shtam visited his school. Out of the crowd of hundreds of students, the Major selected him from the crowd, being informed by his ISB agents of the young Feran's lack of discipline. The Major took it upon himself to train him into an Imperial officer. Whisked away from his comfortable existence, Feran accompanied the Major, travelling the spaceways while being tutored by him. Feran gradually began to look up to the Major like a father. By the age of 18, the Leirik saw that it was time to allow Feran to join the Imperial Sector Academy. That was the last time Feran ever saw Leirik Shtam. A week after he left, Feran received word that Major Leirik Shtam had died in a rebel ambush on the COMPNOR convoy he was travelling in. No Imperial ships escaped.

Significant Events of Adulthood
Driven on by an intense hatred for the rebels after hearing that his mentor perished by their attack, Feran drove himself to excel in his studies at the Baldur Sector Academy. His zeal, courage and innate flying ability got him the right kind of attention from the Academy's TIE Fighter Training Company. Having his COMPNOR Campus connections did not hurt him either. Being both an above-average student and the vice-captain of the school's Wegsphere team got Feran enrolled into Ground School quickly. There, he excelled. Feran relished the thrill of fighting in three dimensions. Each roll flowed with ease. Each shot struck its target. Combined with his resolve and determination, Feran was destined to go far. Graduating at the top one percent of his class, Feran was given the rank of Sub-Lieutenant and sent to the Emperor's Hammer Fleet.

Alignment and Attitude:
Pro-Imperial. Feran believes in the New Order. Being taught by an COMPNOR Major drilled him with the highest Imperial ideals and Feran can be readily relied upon for his loyalty. Feran has fervently denied the charges brought against the Empire for genocide and war crimes, dismissing them as rebel war propaganda. He one day hopes to die for the Empire in combat against enemies of peace, justice and order.

Occupations: Pilot
Hobbies: Wegsphere
Tragedies: Death of his mentor, Major Leirik Shtam, and the disappearance of his parents and family.
Allergies: Yubnuts
Personal View of the Empire and Emperor's Hammer
I believe that the Empire is the only hope the galaxy has of regaining its former glory. Freed of the corrupt Senate and the dangerous Jedi, the New Order can allow the galaxy to prosper once again. The Emperor's Hammer is just another extension of that order.
Death before honor.

Marital Status (Single, Married, Divorced, Separated): Single

Family: Father, mother, two older brothers

Social Status (Destitute, Poor, Well-to-do, Wealthy, Nobility): Well-to-do

Significant Events of Childhood & Adolescence:

Born into a family with long traditions of serving in the Imperial Navy. Growing up in a military-minded atmosphere and under the reign of a commanding father, who wanted all of his sons to become members of the Imperial Navy. However, a military career didn't seem ideal. Acting and the film business were more interesting.

Significant Events of Adulthood:

Once left home, sought up opportunities to establish himself as one of the top actors in the Empire. Though it wasn't easy, by luck and grim determination managed to get a couple of minor roles in small-budget presentations, mainly for HoloNets and such. After some time was spotted by the president of a major film company. Was offered a role in the upcoming would-be blockbuster "Righteous Retribution", which eagerly accepted. The film was a huge success, and the role of Yorred Mann, a hotshot Imperial Naval Pilot, was the ticket to stardom. Named himself "Yoman" after the immensely successful role. Was then considered to be one of the most promising actors in the galaxy. Sequel to "Righteous Retribution" and titles like "Days of Glory" and "Thrill Ride" brought sweet success. Lived a jet-set life free of all limitations. The Battle of Endor changed all this, as the Emperor died and the Empire crumbled. The ensuing chaos brought an end to the acting career. Both brothers were wounded in the battle but they survived and returned home. Wandered around for a while, until decided to join the remains of the Imperial Navy. Found out about the Emperor's Hammer and enlisted!

Alignment & Attitude:

Aligned to the Emperor's Hammer. Cheerful and free-minded, but takes his job seriously; wants to become even better.

Former Occupations (if any): Actor

Hobbies:

Keeping personal quarters in prime condition. Perfecting skills in Combat Simulators. Hanging around the SSSD Sovereign and making some desperate moves on all available females (mostly human).

Tragedies:

A self-made script for movie "Die, Rebel, die!" was rejected by every major film company.

Phobias & Allergies: Allergic only to slackers in his squadron

Personal views of the Empire (and Emperor's Hammer):

The Emperor's Hammer offers interesting career opportunities and general excitement. Is not in because of ideological reasons or hatred towards the New Republic.

Reason for applying to the Emperor's Hammer Elite Strike Fleet:
After the acting career broke up, the EH seemed like a good choice for some serious career moves. The uniforms are cool too.
Other comments or information (optional):
Hopes to resurrect his acting career someday

Sex: Male

Race: Human

Date of Birth: 84862.24

Place of birth: City of Thallus, Thal

Martial status: Single

Family: Deceased (Murdered by Jedi Knights)

Social Status: Nobility (Member of the royal family on Thal)

Significant events of childhood:

The loss of his Parents:

It was a standard day on Thallus, the icy winds stroke the frozen Kanto plain, were the capital of Thal was located. The Cha'Drii birds were singing their usually tune. Mareek and his parents were on the way to the Spaceport, when all of a sudden Four clocked Figures appeared. Mareek's father took out a Cylindrical artifact, that Mareek never hand seen before. Green clocked Jedi Knight " Now Dark lord you shall pay for your crimes". As the green cloaked Jedi knight finished his sentence, the Jedi knights and Mareek's father pushed a button on their Artifacts, and blades of pure energy ignite from the cylindrical artifacts. A humming now filled the air, as the Cha'Drii fell Birds silent.

The Jedi Knights and Mareek's father began their furious battle. Mareek's Father fought bravely, but he was eventually killed, He managed to put 2 of the Jedi knight scum, out of their misery. The Green clocked Jedi "KILL THE CHILD".

The other Jedi knight walked over to the Mareek and lifted his Lightsaber, and prepared to strike the child down. Mareek's Mother the princess of Thal, Minia of Johlinar threw herself between Mareek and Jedi's Lightsaber she was brutally stork down were she stood. Brown Cloaked Jedi " now you will die child of the sith" As he lifted the Lightsaber for the second time, a Dark clocked man emerged from Shadows. So this is the ways of the honourable Light Jedi knights, to murder a child and his family to stop the child from becoming what he is.

Green clocked Jedi knight, Who are you and what do you what. Black Cloaked I am Bin'asardim, and I what to see you and all of the light Jedi Knights Dead.

Bin'arsadim " defend yourself Scum ". Bin'asardim killed the Jedi and adopted Mareek and employed him in his shipping firm. Mareek found that shipping goods around, was not what he wanted, so when he got the offer to join the 75'th mercenary navy he agreed.

tragedies:

Loss of Parents

Loss of family.

The planet of Thal was under the new order(empire) The people of Thal always had a good hand with technology and they produced large amounts of sublight engines for KDY. The Monarchy(Mareek's family) was welcomed the empire and look upon the rebels as a band of anarchists that had to be stopped. One day the rebels laid explosive charges in all the producing factories as well as the Royal palace.

Unfortunately the scheme was successfully and the factories as well as the Royal palace was destroyed. All the people in the palace were killed including all of the Royal family, Mareek felt that Politics and intrigues was not for him so he gave the Thane of Hir'zar the post as Vice thedaz(rules) The thane was a good friend that Mareek look at upon as his brother. The People of Thal quickly rebuild the Facilities and the palace but the sorrow over a the loss of a long line of regent still exists today.

Significant Events of Childhood & Adolescence:

I was born to Gerad and Katya Jourdain in the cargo hold of the freighter that my father was a crew member on, I grew up hardly ever seeing my father, except when his ship was in the system. When he was around he quite often took me up in one of the service hoppers assigned to his ship and by the age of 10 I was a fair pilot. When I was 13 my father and mother were killed by rebel saboteurs who blew up the freighter my father was serving on at the time. I later learned that the freighter was transporting TIE fighter spares to the nearly completed Death Star. I immediately quit school and started searching for my parents killers.

Significant Events of Adulthood: I was meet with no luck and was unable to trace the rebels so I visited the local Black sun operative. He said he could reveal the names to me but only if I paid him 1800 credits. I said I would and gave him the code to my fathers account at the Imperial Central Bank. Which I knew contained only 12 decacredits. He revelled the Names to me and immediately went off to check my bank details. I slipped out and after a chase maneged to get on a shuttle to the Correlian System which is where the Black sun operative had said the Rebels were sheltering. I found there secret cache of arms and 2 starfighters hidden on Trallus, and stealing one of there starfighters I maneged to vape one of there shuttles, one escaped into hyperspace as its counterpart was destroyed. I tryed following there last vector but they were smarter than to go in a straight line. On my travels I met Louise Cairns, who I hope to marry once I become an officer. She persaded me the best way to get back at the Rebels would be to join the EH so at the age of 29 I did

Krayt squadron and The Rebel Assassin

Lt Jourdain brought his GUN round in a wide arc and dropped onto the tail of his attacker, a Rebel A-wing. He quickly switched to missiles and fired a pair of linked Concussion missiles straight into the A-wings engines. It disintegrated and blew shrapnel in all directions, in an unshielded TIE he would have been worried but luckily his Gun had shields. "Good kill 3" came Lt PFJO's voice from the comm. Just as Jourdain targeted the next attacker the whole fighter lurched, red lights flashed on the status screen. An A-wing flashed past the viewport. "I need help here! I've lost shields, engines and hyperdrive" shouted Jourdain. "Coming Lt." shouted Commander Jdf1984 as he turned towards Jourdain's stricken craft. The rest of the squadron continued strafing the asteroid base they had been tasked to destroy. The A-wing swung round for another pass. As soon as the Commander was in range he opened up with his lasers and scored glancing hits that were absorbed by the smaller crafts shields. Suddenly the A-Wing imploded and for a second all Jdf1984 could see was white. "What? Who got that, I didn't hit it!" exclaimed a puzzled Jdf1984. "I did Commander," said a voice from the com, "looks like we arrived just in time. Now that's Two drinks you owe me Jourdain." "CM. Lusankya is that you?" said Jdf1984 "Sure is. Lucky we Copperhead squadron boys stopped by."

Later that day back on the ISD Intrepid the Krayt Squadron pilots were drinking in the Bar when some pilots from the ISD Grey Wolf arrived and started ordering drinks. "How come you guys are here? Said Lieutenant Togona. "We had to escort a GA Ronin's shuttle over from the SSSD Sovereign" said one of the pilots. "Wonder what he is doing here?" wondered Lieutenant Apophis. "Maybe were to go on an offensive sortie against the RSI" said Lieutenant D. Rizen excitedly. "Or maybe we are just going to patrol round Aurora or Phare again." said SL Patrick Blastfire. Suddenly an announcement boomed over the tanoy making them all jump and making Lt Jourdain spill his Lomian Ale "There will be a briefing for all pilots at 0750 tomorrow from GA Ronin. That is all".

CM Jdf1984 woke with a jolt, It was 0213 in the morning. He was about to turn over and go back to sleep again when he heard a noise in the corridor. He opened the door of his quarters just slightly only to see a Tech named Samir creeping towards the Turbolift. He was wearing rubber plimsoll's and had a blaster in one hand and a Vibroblade in the other. Jdf1984 swiftly woke Lieutenant Togona who he shared his quarters with and told him what was happening. He went to wake the others while Jdf1984 followed Samir. When Samir got to the Turbolift he keyed in the Command Superstructure Door 1 as his destination and stepped inside. As soon as the door closed Lt Jourdain and SL Patrick Blastfire came round the corner. "Where did he go" mouthed Lt Jourdain. "Command Superstructure Level 1." said Jdf1984. "There is nothing much there except the guest quarters" said Patrick Blastfire. "GA Ronin is staying in them!" Said Jourdain "Do you think..." "yes I do Lt." replied Jdf1984 " Is there anyway you can slow the turbolift down?" "I'll get on it boss" replied Lt Jourdain as he reached for the screwdriver in his belt and started unscrewing the access panel. "The rest of you follow me." Shouted Jdf1984 to the assembled Krayt squadron pilots woken by Lieutenant Togona. They ran towards a service turbolift and entered the code for the Command Superstructure Door 2. "Level 2 ?" queried Sub-Lieutenant Mind Bender. "Yup, there is an access conduit that leads to Level 1, it will be quicker." said Jdf1984 as they ascended. The door opened to level 2 and the pilots pushed past the startled tech's and officer's. They got to the conduit and started climbing.

Jdf1984 poked his head out of the conduit access door and saw Samir applying a code lock breaker to the door of the guest quarter's. The door clicked and Samir started pushing it open. Jdf1984 squeezed off a quick shot missed and squeezed off another. Samir turned startled, and ducked behind a pillar, he squeezed off a shot and hit Lieutenant PJFO in the knee, he grabbed his knee, let out a pained groan and collapsed to the floor, unconscious. The other Krayt squadron pilots filed out of the conduit access door and took up positions behind doors and pillars firing all the time. Suddenly the general alarm went off filling the whole ship with noise. "Well done Jourdain" thought Jdf1984 .Samir poked his head round the pillar and expertly shot again hitting Mind Bender in the shoulder. He then started backing off towards the turbolift.

Suddenly the Turbolift door hissed open and Lt Jourdain was standing there blaster in hand. He could not miss Samir at a distance of 5 yards, a bright blue beam flashed out of Jourdain's blaster and hit Samir in the back. He gasped for breath then collapsed on the floor. "Sorry I didn't come faster sir" smiled Lt Jourdain. "Its OK Lt, none of our pilots were seriously injured luckily." panted Jdf1984.

Later on an intelligence operative came to the squadron briefing and when it was over he addressed the pilots. "That man, Samir, you captured last night, he was a rebel agent tasked with assassinating GA Ronin well done for stopping him. By the way how are your injured pilots?" "They will be OK." Said Jdf1984 "With a few more hours in the Bacta tank."

"Sir when will they be here?" I asked my Squadron Commander as I watched my Long-Range Scanner "Just wait Drake" he answered back calmly. Our mission was to escort an Imperial Shuttle which was holding in it's docking bay a huge super computer which would go on a new battle station in the Hoth system. The shuttle was supposed to arrive at Via this point and then have Drake's squadron and one other squadron escort it on the rest of it's journey.

Suddenly the Shuttle zipped out of hyperspace right next to my left wing. I was given the task of asking for their transmission code so I clicked on to the shuttles frequencie and reported in "Shuttle Revenge report in please, This is shuttle Revenge we acknowledge. The shuttle started to turn my way and was about to transmit the code when out of now where, two rebel squadrons reverted into realspace. "Dark Lead this is Dark Five orders to engage targets?" I asked my Commander as I started up my main drives.

"Five lead your flight and engage enemy hostiles, Nine take your flight and cover the Shuttle, my flight fly on my wing and angage enemies." I picked out my first target and shot towards it. My target was an A-wing and must have had a good pilot in it because I couldn't get a hit off of it. I flew up and around forming into a corkscrew and came out on the A-wings tail, I then fired blowing it's shields away and clipping his right back fin. The A-wing started spiraling out towards the raging battle and soon was hit by fight fire igniting it into a huge fireball. I then turned to my right and fired a Concussion Missile at a passing X-wing. Surprisingly it hit the enemy target and blew it into a million little pieces, but before i could celebrate I felt a huge bump and relized I had been hit with an Ion Cannon. Blue streaks flew over my control board as I lost control of my craft "This is Dark Five, Dark Five, I need help my ship has been hit with an Ion blast!" I didn't get a response and started worrying that my squad had been destroyed but then I got an answer "Five this is Lead cannot help Luietenant I'm sorry we have are hands full try and survive" I slammed the control board and cursed. "Come on, come on" I said to the starter switch as I flicked it on and off. I flipped it one more time and luckely for some reason the engines and controls came back online "YES!" I yelled as I started a course back to the battle.

When I got back into the battle I noticed most of the Rebel fighters had been destroyed, and the rest were trying their best to survive. I tracked this one X-wing but it blew up before I could get into Laser Cannon range. The rest of the Rebels started fleeing and getting ready to go into hyperspace, a couple more Rebels were destroyed before they shot into hyperspace.

"Lead this is Five I'm ok and alive sir how about you?" I asked "I'm doing fine but Flight Three didn't handle so well only one pilot got out" I cursed again and then flew back towards our ISD waiting for the day when I would have revenge on those you killed my comrades.

Written from Lieutenant Vice Bane's Point of View by Major Wet Willy. 12/13/99

It was the middle of the night when I awoke to a slight tapping on my door. I had no clue who or what it could be, but I'm not going to take any chances. I pulled on my flight suit pants and grabbed my blaster. I inched towards the door, carefully, but I was very curious as to who would be coming to my quarters this late at night. I reached out carefully, while standing along side the door, and hit the open button. The door swung open, and for a moment, I didn't see anything, or anyone. Eventually, my curiosity got the better of me; I swung around and pointed the blaster directly out of my door. To my surprise, I was pointing a blaster directly in the face of the beautiful tech, Lieutenant Heather Greenhart. She was a girl whom I've admired from afar for many weeks. She was wearing a black skin-tight jumpsuit, it was very sexy. She smiled as I looked over her body. "Well, hello there, Lieutenant Bane," she said to me, inviting herself into my quarters. "You gonna point that thing at me all night?" I blushed, as I suddenly realized that I was still holding the blaster, pointed at her. "Oh, sorry," I said. "Is there something going on?"

"Nope, just thought I'd drop in and pay you a visit." She winked at me, and sat down on the corner of my bunk. I quickly followed and sat down next to her. We engaged in casual small talk for a little while, but from out of no where, she sprung over and kissed me, a long, passionate kiss.

From there, she proceeded to remove my pants and I was about to take off her's when she suddenly jumped off of me, and scurried half way across the room. Playing hard to get, I thought to myself. I got up and followed her, wearing only my boxers.

"Well, well, now, someone's having fun, and we weren't invited," a familiar voice said from behind me. It was Major Wet Willy, my smart assed commander. He walked in, and I was suddenly embarrassed by my lack of clothing. Willy signaled to Heather to come over to him, she did. He put his arm around her shoulders and whispered something into her ear. She nodded, and giggled a little bit to herself. He handed something to her, but I couldn't tell what it was.

With that, Willy turned around and yelled, "OKAY GUY'S, COME ON IN!" That scared me, suddenly, tons of the members of wing started piling into my quarters, and all the while, I was just standing there in my underwear.

After the last of the members of the wing piled into my tiny quarters, with a lot of them still hanging out in the hallway, Willy began speaking. "Lieutenant Commander Vice Bane, you dog, hey everyone, look at what we've got here. My flight leader patronizing with a tech, and a very sexy one, I might add. Aren't we all so very proud of him?" He snickered, and a lot of applause and whistling came from the crowds. Wait a minute, it just hit me, what the Major had said.

"Luu.Luu.Lieutenant Commander??" I stuttered.

"That's right, buddy," he replied, and with that, he signaled to Heather. She walked over to me, and bent down to her knees. She then proceeded to pin a nice new and shiny Lieutenant Commander's badge to my boxers. She patted the new badge and winked at me. I smiled back. With that, everyone began cheering and Wet Willy, Corran Force, and Torres came over and saluted and congratulated him. Everyone began clearing out of the room, headed for the Challenge's cantina for celebration, leaving only Willy, Heather, and me. Willy whispered to me, "That party out there if for you, but we won't mind if you're a little late." With that, he winked at me, and left the room, closing the door behind him.

A little design description of a new fighter, we might try make it latter, if we find time :)

A few years ago, the Empire noticed that the TIE Fighter was no longer the best the Universe had to offer in the area of Starfighters. Starting with the X-Wing and A-Wing Fighters these two craft brought about the development of the Advanced and Defender Starfighters and the Empire was now the leader in fighter technology.

Now the Rebels have developed the formidable E-Wing fighter, roughly comparable to the Advanced, and the K-Wing Bomber. In reply the Imperial Advanced Starfighter Design Team in the Emperor's Hammer Strike Fleet has put together a heavy bomber to take the place of the TIE Bomber.

Name/Model: TIE Excaliber (T/E)
Designer/Manufacturer: Sienar Fleet Systems (EHSF)
Combat Designation: Heavy Bomber
Crew: 1 Pilot
Power System: SFS I-s5b Solar Ionisation Reactor
Propulsion System: SFS P-sx8.9 Tri Ion Engines (Rated at 230 KTU)
Speed Rating: 150 MGLT
Flight Control System: SFS F-s5x Flight Avionics System
Maneuverability Rating: 130 DPF
Navigation: SFS N-s6 Navcon Computer System
Hyperdrive: SFS ND9 Hyperdrive Activator Unit
Weapons: Four SFS L-s9.3 Laser Cannons
Two SFS M-g-2 General Purpose Warhead Launchers
Two SFS P-1.4 "Vulcan Class" PPG Launchers
Shields/Armour: Forward/Rear projecting Novaldex Shields (Rated at 120 SBD)
Titanium Hull with Quadanium Solar Panels (Rated at 20 RU)
Special Design Features: Strike Foils, with underwing mounted Hardpoints (3 per wing)

The lack of an Ion system will make the design limited in the rolls in which it takes. The updated PPG Launchers and Engine System should pack quite a punch in the Strike or Assault Mission scenario. While the Engine is upgraded, no Overdrive booster was included for the excess power requirements and consumption.

While the design has some great points, it should only be used where Termination of the target is needed.

Personal Background Information:

Before I enlisted in the Emperor's Hammer, I worked as an Assassin for an organization called "SHADOW" in San Diego, California. I lived there ever since I was 9 when my family had to evacuate from the planet Solaris. SHADOW would give me my assignment, and weeks later I would come back with a trophy of the target. On average I'd make about $2 Million to $5 Million each confirmed target kill depending on the Status/Difficulty of the Mission.

Then one night, a different group known as the "Skulls" attacked the SHADOW hidden headquarters and a huge battle took place. SHADOW was completely wiped out except for me because I was driving home with my girlfriend and saw the battle down the street, suddenly a few Skulls saw me and they jumped in their cars and took off after me. It was a wild and deadly chase but one Skull member crashed into another car and exploded, while the other ran up a telephone pole and was arrested. There was no hope in any of them catching me anyway in my Lamborghini Diablo.

My girlfriend and I drove as far as we could, we ended up in Las Vegas, Nevada, and we took the next flight to Gainesville, Florida, where my girlfriend's parents lived. We stayed there for a week and then I left to go back to San Diego, California to see my family. When I got there, I found my parents dead on the floor, then suddenly I heard a quiet beeping sound, instantly I knew what it was and I ran as fast as I could and jumped out the kitchen window just as the house exploded. I jumped in my car and drove as fast as I could to my little brother's school. I walked in his classroom and grabbed him and said, "We gotta go!"

We took the next flight back to Florida where my girlfriend and her family lived. I told them of what happened, but still no one knew of past secret career. I told my brother that he was to live with my girlfriend's family and to change his name. I said my last good-byes to my little brother and my girlfriend and promised them that I would see them again soon. I left them access to my bank account and I took a Shuttle to Aurora Prime where I enlisted in the Imperial Empire where I was to begin my training in the Dark Brotherhood to become a Dark Jedi. The Dark Brotherhood informed me of my special abilities, and it was then that I learned why my previous career was so successful.

During my training, I kept hearing reports about a Starfleet and how there was a huge war taking place. After I had completed the Shadow Academy, I was then transferred to the House Borealis of Clan Aquillas where I was to become a fully trained Jedi, but then soon the Clan was dissolved. While I was searching for a new Clan, I stumbled across the Emperor's Hammer Flight Office, and I enlisted. I was transferred to the Platform Daedalus where I began my training as an Imperial Pilot. With past my past experiences for killing and training as a Jedi, I quickly gained stature and respect within the Platform and I was transferred to the SSSD Sovereign where I was to carry out my final career ...

Editor's note: There was a submission credited to LT Goatham in NL 61. Evidently I was wrong in crediting him for this work, as this letter from him explains:

In the files section I noticed you've got a submission from me with pictures of the Sovereign? When did you receive them as I never remember sending them? If you found them at <http://hsnp.com/~rbarham/XWA/xwa.htm> then they are not my work, I just directed people into knowing that there is a XWA Sovereign.opt out there on the internet.

I just wanted to explain this as I don't want it to turn into that person is in the EH and complains in thinking that I am taking credit for his pictures.

Also, a note from GN Wolly:

Greetings Masters of all NLs, slight correction for NL#60: the attached Flight Office banner (thanks) was submitted by myself, not by BG Turtle/Sadhe... all Flight Office banner stuff is mine... :P

FLEET COMMANDER'S NOTES:

Herein are presented the Capital Ships of the Fleet as recognized by the Fleet Commander. Only those Capital Ships presented below in boldface are assigned Emperor's Hammer Members as crew, pilots, etc. (i.e. TIE Corps pilots). Other Capital Ships in the Fleet are assumed to have 'standard Imperial crews' (i.e. non-players).

The SubGroup vessels presented below are also manned with their respective SubGroup Members. Emperor's Hammer Members desiring more specific information on the capabilities of each of the Emperor's Hammer capital ships should review the EH Fleet Manual.

The author of this newsletter may occasionally publish photographs or artwork submitted by a Member. The Fleet Commander herein notifies all readers that the submitter of the artwork, graphic or photograph is responsible for notifying the Fleet Commander of the origin of the picture so that proper credit may be given to its author. When the origin or author of a particular picture is not submitted, the Fleet Commander will credit the sender of the same with his/her AOL Screen Name and date (year). Authors of original computer-generated artwork will also be so recognized in the picture caption.

Any sound (*.wav) files embedded in the EH Newsletters are typically downloaded by the Fleet Commander personally from the various Star Wars File Archives on America Online (AOL). The files used in the EH Newsletters will consist ONLY of Public Domain Type sound files. However, any EH Member submitted files will be so credited in the NLs.

Likewise, when written text is submitted for posting in the Newsletter, all submitters are reminded that credit must be given to its original author (if applicable) and the Fleet Commander notified so that proper credit can be given in the Newsletter.
